

Sales go on - but not as you know it

It was a sale like no other today as we enter uncharted waters for our industry and our country. While other services and businesses shut down, we must ensure that our livestock sales continue as an integral part of the supply chain. Our association and TRLX are taking this situation very seriously and are committed to ensuring that this happens. But it's far from business as normal. We need to limit the numbers of people in the saleyards, so we are asking people who are not intending to buy livestock, or are not essential to the sale process, to remain away from the facility. However, there are still numerous options to watch the sale and bid. TRLX have a large screen tv with livestreaming of the sale adjacent to the carpark. Alternatively, you can view the sale live on the rlx.com.au, see photos of the top pens on our Facebook page and/or bid online on rlx.com.au. On the market front, the MLA reported that "with a bit of uncertainty market trends ... were mostly cheaper."
